Bingo-loving OAPs go 'clickety-click'

Eyes down for a wedding after couple in their 70s find love

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

TWO pensioners whose eyes met during a 'lucky' game of bingo are set to tie the knot.

Smitten Ron Simms, 75, and his bride-to-be Pat Bongailas, 72, say they just 'clickety-clicked' at Hungerford House sheltered housing in Emerson Valley.

The couple, who between them have 34 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren, will wed three weeks today at a Bletchley register office.

Ron, who was first married when he was 21, thought he would remain single after 48 happy years with his late wife Ivy.

That was until he noticed new girl Pat while acting as a bingo caller.

He said: "When I was calling the numbers I just sat there and I caught her eye and I thought to myself yes, yes, yes. It was love at first sight.

"After that I used to go across to her bungalow, which was next to my flat, and have a cup of tea. She would come across to my flat and we would have dinner. And then it just snowballed."

Full house: Pensioners Pat Bongailas and Ron Simms are to be wed in three weeks after falling in love at their sheltered housing scheme bingo night

Pat, who was first married at 17, said: "We used to have a dance together. For him it was love at first sight, but for me it took a bit longer. Now we never go anywhere on our own. We feel lucky to have found each other."

At a party on New Year's Eve, Ron 'went down on two knees' and proposed in front of their neighbours at Hungerford House.

They plan to honeymoon in Felixstowe and next year will travel to Malta – the first time Ron will have been abroad and flown.

Young-at-heart Pat, who has twice battled cancer, plans to have a go on the bouncy castle at the reception.

The couple, who both grew up in London, think it possible they danced together as teenagers at Hammersmith Palais.

Pat moved to Bletchley 33 years ago before running a costume jewellery market stall, while Ron, a security officer, moved to Furzton 23 years ago.

She will be given away by her son and, while Ron's grandson is best man. They will be dressed in navy and lilac.

The newly-weds will share the flat in which Ron has lived since 1986, after Pat has filled the garden with flowers.

Ron, a keen darts player, added: "I said I would never get married again. But Pat had that glimmer in her eye and I thought to myself, go for it Ron. And I'm happier now than I've ever been."

'Goodie bags' to attract teachers

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

TEACHERS could be offered incentive 'goodie bags' in an effort to entice them to work in Milton Keynes.

Discounts at the gym, cinema and theatre, as well as reduced travel fares, are among the perks proposed to solve the city's 'chronic shortage of teachers'.

Some schools in the area already offer newly qualified teachers a laptop, but a report presented to councillors last night said they should go further.

It follows a decision to give teachers a £10,000 bursary if they transfer to the area.

The report says that teachers are being deterred by Milton Keynes' reputation as an expensive place to live that lacks culture.

As a result, secondary school headteachers are having to pay 'inflated salaries' in order to retain teachers.

'Such is the pressing need to retain teachers that schools are paying poor or mediocre teachers above average salaries,' it says.

Instead, the report by Rocket Science recommends incentives should be used to integrate new teachers into the life of Milton Keynes, with the local authority footing the bill.

At the moment, neither schools nor the council present Milton Keynes as an attractive place to live or work, it says.

The problem is worse for secondary schools considered to be in 'challenging circumstances', particularly affecting maths and science. Some have vacancy rates of up to 18 per cent.

Rocket Science predicts the situation will worsen as the city continues to grow.

Cllr Sandra Clark, cabinet member for children, commissioned the report after hearing that schools such as Radcliffe had advertised for maths teachers more than 50 times with no success.

She said: "The report picks up on the fact that we don't have any higher education provision so we are not growing our own teachers here. Young people move out of Milton Keynes to study and then don't come back."

Leon headteacher Simon Viccars said fellow headteachers are 'being very flexible and creative in their recruitment strategies to attract colleagues'.

He said: "There is a national shortage of teachers in some subjects and this is replicated in Milton Keynes' secondary schools."

The council's existing bursary scheme comes in the form of two payments - £5,000 to relocate in Milton Keynes and £5,000 for the following year.

Host city bid pitched to FA

THE Football Association discovered why Milton Keynes will be a perfect host venue for the 2018 World Cup when they visited the city yesterday.

An inspection team of nine officials representing the FA visited each of the 15 cities vying for a host spot if England wins the bid.

With a bright and early start at MK Theatre they were treated to a performance by local dance act Nemesis and heard the MK consortium's bid proposal.

There were a series of speeches from local dignitaries including Milton Keynes Council leader Sam Crooks and Dr Ann Limb, chairman of Milton Keynes Partnership Committee.

A second group saw some of the city's green open spaces where giant screens would show World Cup matches and fan parks would be based, including the National Bowl and Campbell Park.

The final group took a trip round possible training venues which included the Dons' Woughton on the Green, as well as hotels and leisure facilities.

Dons chairman Pete Winkelman said: "We explained to the inspectors how we plan to increase the stadium's capacity to almost double from 22,233 to 43,044 which would easily meet the criteria of 40,000 seats set by the FA.

Milton Keynes Council leader Sam Crooks addresses media representatives after FA inspection team visited the city

"We are going to be just over 50 years old in 2018 and we could have a global event come to Milton Keynes. Our culture will be forever wrapped up in that event and the sporting, the healthy life style legacy that we can leave to our children and the enjoyment that they will receive from being a host city is something money can't buy."

Before returning to FA headquarters in Soho Square there was a press conference in which MK NEWS took part.

Station Square revamp set to be approved

A NEW look for Station Square was set to be approved last night.

A layout which separates taxis, cars and buses, and stops people having to cross three roads to walk towards the city centre, was due to be voted on by Milton Keynes Council's cabinet.

Months of work have gone into deciding what the area outside the central train station will look like.

The council consulted the public on a £4 million temporary revamp before the square is overhauled after 2016.

They had given the public two options for the layout, but when renowned architect Ken Baker put forward his own design, officers seemed to favour this - though it was never put to the public.

Now, cabinet member for transport Alan Mallyon is proposing a layout which most resembles Mr Baker's vision, with a covered concourse extending from the station building.

Cllr Mallyon said: "We've tried very hard to accommodate all people's wishes. People go from one extreme to another - to some, Station Square should be a fantastic work of art and a gateway to the city, to others it should be purely functional. It's an interim solution, we've got a very limited budget. We hope it will be attractive enough to please most people."

Though pleased with his input, Mr Baker said the plan needs to be refined so that it does not resemble a bus station.

Once approved, it will be enhanced by an urban design team over the next few weeks.

Cllr Mallyon envisages additional artistic features, signposting, and even bicycle sheds which are underneath the grass.

A plan to build a raised restaurant in the middle of the square was mooted, though this will be considered for the long term improvements in seven years' time.

Down to the final forty

MORE than 80 acts took to the stage at Milton Keynes Theatre this weekend in the second round of the regions biggest talent show MK's Top Talent.

All were competing for a chance to win the prize of a lifetime – to star in the regions premier pantomime Cinderella.

Having survived the gruelling first round of auditions, the hopeful performers faced judges including Cinderella herself – West End leading lady Louise Dearman, Panto producer Kevin Wood, MK NEWS editor David Gale and Chris Gregg programme controller at Heart who had the difficult task of choosing just 40 acts to go through to the live heats in September.

Louise, who used to work at the theatre before hitting the big time, said: "Milton Keynes is so full of talent, choosing the final acts was a mammoth task, but our final 40 are genuinely talented and have real star quality. I can't wait to see them performing on stage live in front of an audience, its going to be a fantastic week of shows in September"

Kevin added "Someone we saw today has taken their first step towards a professional career on stage, we have seen some incredibly talented people who I believe have got what it takes to be in our Pantomime so I'm really looking forward to seeing all they've got to give in the live heats"

Chief executive of the theatre Elizabeth Adlington said: "This response is exactly what we hoped for. We're delighted that so many people have got involved with MK's Top Talent. What a fantastic way to celebrate local talent as part of our 10th Birthday season of which the heats promise to be a real highlight"

The week of Live heats on stage at Milton Keynes Theatre runs from 29 September 29 to October 2. The weeks events will culminate in the all-important final on Saturday, October 3

Tickets for the heats and all-important final are on sale now, call the theatre box office on 0844 871 7652(bkg fee) or visit www.ambassadortickets.com/miltonkeynes

Backing the World Cup bid – who pays?

SIR – RE: MK's World Cup bid.
I think that if Milton Keynes is chosen as a venue it could be a marvellous asset to the city.
It would show other people what a wonderful place Milton Keynes is.
Let's hope that many more people respond to this article.

The council ?
The council tax payer?
The Government?

Cycling stupidity

SIR – Re: Hit and run cyclist.
I know Shae from playgroup and have known him since he was born, he is a gorgeous little boy.
I can't believe that someone could do this to him and just ride off without a care, I am so glad that nothing worse happened to him.
But what happened was still more than what should have happened.
It just shows the stupidity of some people that they can almost ride into a mum and her week-old baby and then go on to ride into her three-year-old.
I hope that they catch this man, and soon, so that nobody else gets hurt.

Life's a beach

SIR – With temperatures this week expected to top Alice Springs, Jamaica and Athens, I phoned Cllr Vanessa McPake as she is now a cabinet member where Douglas McCall used to be.
In answer to my question: 'What was the council up to regarding a beach, or at least something in regard to the summer for the good folk of Milton Keynes', only to be told she had a taxi waiting and was off to a conference.
I suggest this response is typical of the council which appears to be hell-bent on building more factories than considering what it is like for us on hot days without the benefit of air-conditioned offices.
The next time they come asking for your vote you can remind them of screaming, bored, sweaty kids and sleepless nights.
Nottingham is building a huge city centre beach for the summer for its people, so is Leicester and many others, which is why I shall be standing for councillor next May.

Council should tackle 'The Cyclist Problem'

SIR – Re: Hit and run cyclist.
This is a most regrettable incident and the toddler and his family have my sympathy.
It demonstrates the potentially unpleasant outcome of a cyclist on pedestrian collision. And in recent times there have been cases reported of even more serious injury or death.
What is surprising is that it does not happen more frequently. Most of the cyclists I see in and around Milton Keynes are, in my opinion, boorish or delinquent in at least one aspect of their behaviour.
Much of the blame for this must lie with the lack of cyclist education and failure to enforce good behaviour. In particular on footways around the Central Milton Keynes shopping centre it is not unusual to find cyclists riding at speed apparently in contravention of the No Cycling on Footway notices.
The problem of cyclists approaching from behind at speed with no audible warning is well known and has been raised elsewhere.

We need the authorities in Milton Keynes to take a more responsible attitude to 'The Cyclist Problem'.

Cash, not gratitude

SIR – How good it was to see the Antiques Roadshow at Bletchley Park.
The day was fine, the atmosphere was great, the park staff were extremely professional in their handling of the thousands of visitors and even the BBC commented that this was one of the best Roadshows they had done.
Then what do we hear: the Government is going to honour the veterans of Bletchley Park with a commemorative badge.
David Milliband, for the Government, said that he was delighted that the vital, and secret, work of Bletchley Park is being recognised.
He went on: "We owe a debt of gratitude to all who served at Bletchley Park. I am proud to acknowledge their ingenuity, skill and determination which helped our country in its' time of greatest need."
Ever since the Bletchley Park Trust was formed in the early 90s, it has been asking successive Governments to support the Park financially. What has been the constant answer? NO!
Even as late as a few months ago a question was asked in the House of Lords as to whether the Government would recognise Bletchley Park for the work that it did and link it to the Imperial War Museum. The answer? NO!
Bletchley Park urgently needs funds in order to survive but has the Government ever been forthcoming? NO!
This is just another empty gesture by a Government which has no real interest in seeing Bletchley Park survive.
Do you honestly think that if the park was in London this state of affairs would have been allowed to continue?
If it was the Science, Natural History or any of the other London museums that was falling down, do you think that the Government wouldn't be there in a flash, with an open cheque book, saying 'how much do you need?'.
Yes, it is about time that the veterans of Bletchley Park were honoured and the unique and vitally important work that they did finally recognised, but why has it taken this Government so long to do it?
Empty words from a bankrupt Government which really seems to think that the issue of a badge fulfills its responsibilities.
With this gesture the Government has only fulfilled one tiny responsibility but continues to completely ignore the rest.

What happens if we've NOT got swine flu?

SIR – This week swine flu was confirmed at my child's school which has remained open.
I understand that it is mild symptoms most people are experiencing but what happens when the children are becoming infected and bring the virus home to vulnerable people, such as myself?
I have heart and lung problems and, on this basis, my children have remained at home with me.
Surely for the sake of a few days it would have been more responsible for schools to close.
I am also concerned as my eldest child had an appointment at MK Walk-In Centre this morning.
I arrived to find it was not a walk-in centre. My appointment had been cancelled. There was a buzzer entry system on the door, only to allow people to collect Tamiflu prescriptions for others.
NHS Direct is not taking calls for out-of-hours patients, so my question is, why are the schools open and the medical centres closing and where are we supposed to take our children or ourselves when we have a non-swine flu illness out of hours?
Is it expected that everyone goes to accident and emergency, surely this will put pressure on our emergency services.

Bins no problem

SIR – I am surprised that the food waste collection scheme has not been more widely welcomed.
I have 'road-tested' it and found that it works remarkably well.
It is easy to use. It prevents all my waste being messed up with waste food. It increases recycling. It turns waste food into something useful rather than it being dumped to rot down in expensive landfill sites.
This is one service for which MK Council is a leader in the field and deserves to be commended.
The council has run a trial food waste collection scheme in two areas for over three years to iron out any problems. I have used the scheme throughout this time without any problems at all. I follow the advice of lining the grey kitchen caddy with waste paper. I empty the kitchen caddy into the green bin outdoors at least twice a week.
I put old newspapers at the bottom of the green bin to absorb any moisture. Little more is needed to keep the green bin clean than occasionally swilling it out with water.

UK Border Agency officers arrest a suspect at Partyrama

Immigrants held at balloon warehouse

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

FIVE illegal immigrants have been arrested at a warehouse which sells party supplies.

Two tip-offs led the UK Borders Agency to the Wymbush base of Partyrama, an online company which distributes balloons, streamers and costumes.

At around 10.30am on Thursday, July 16, a dozen officers from the Government agency and police swooped on the Clarendon Drive unit where around 20 employees package party gear.

A 35-year-old Ghanaian man was arrested for identity card offences as his Belgian passport is thought to be a forgery.

He has been given a caution by police and is now in immigration detention awaiting removal.

Two Indian men, both aged 23, were arrested for working in breach of a student visa. They are due to fly home this week.

A 35-year-old Sri Lankan man was arrested for overstaying on a visa and has been bailed while officers find his travel documents.

A Pakistani man, aged 39, who was believed to have been using someone else's identity, is also now in detention awaiting deportation.

The owners face a fine of up to £10,000 per illegal worker.

Alex Legg, chief immigration officer, said: "Intelligence told us that illegal working was going on at Partyrama.

"We got a warrant from magistrates to enter. "

Council splashes out on hi-tech BlackBerries

COUNCILLORS are to be equipped with BlackBerry mobile phones.

One week after the authority announced a series of recession-related cuts, including possible redundancies, it has bought eight high-tech handsets.

The £80 devices, which can e-mail and phone, will be distributed to members of the cabinet and leaders of the opposition parties, but council leader Sam Crooks is looking at his 50 fellow councillors all having one.

He said: "The way we all work now is that decisions need to be made quickly. If you can cut down on the number of meetings, encourage home working and collaborative working, in time it will save money.

"A number of officers already have a BlackBerry and my suggestion is that this will help councillors be quickly contactable."

Cllr Andrew Geary, leader of the Conservatives, said he does not think that they should buy handsets for all councillors during a recession, but conceded that it will be useful for him.

"In a 'no overall control' authority, when group leaders are called on to make quick decisions, to have something like that when I can say yes or no and be kept up to date is useful."

Norman Miles, Labour group leader, said he is 'neutral' on the question of the BlackBerries, but prefers to use his own mobile phone.

'Hidden' charge if you park by phone

COUNCILLORS have raised concerns about 'hidden charges' in the new pay by phone parking system.

Opposition party leaders have said they were not aware that a service charge must be paid to use the scheme.

Conservative party leader Cllr Andrew Geary said: "There shouldn't be any hidden costs, it should be made clear to the public before they use it."

More than 2,000 drivers have signed up to the scheme.

The charge, payable every time you use the system, is 10p if the parking time purchased is under £2 and 20p if over.

There is also a 10p charge for a reminder text message to say your time is about to run out.

Cllr Norman Miles, leader of the Labour party, said: "I cannot see why there are two levels of charges when you are receiving the same service."

A spokesman for the Liberal Democrat-run council said the service charges go to the software supplier, Verrus, which operates the system.

He said: "This is the way all mobile phone systems work as only the people using them actually pay for the service.

"To offer it free would have involved the council procuring software at a cost that all council taxpayers or parkers would have met.

"The telephone system does tell you there is a service charge."

Midnight moovers seen but not herd

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

MORE than £100,000 has been raised for a hospice by a herd of bovinely-dressed ladies in the city's first midnight walk.

One thousand women walked ten miles on Saturday night in the Midnight Moo in aid of Willen Hospice, which provides care for terminally ill people.

Dressed in a colourful array of cow outfits with bovine print trousers, pink rubber gloves for udders and cow boy hats the ladies gathered at Midsummer Place from 9.30pm.

They were given a salsa-style Zumba warm-up courtesy of Celebrate Health and Fitness before the race was started at midnight by Mayor of Milton Keynes Euan Henderson.

The herd trotted around thecentre:mk, Campbell Park, Willen, Great Linford, Stantonbury, Bancroft and Rooksley and finished back at Midsummer Place.

The first to complete the 10 miles were Alison Tetley and Gill Puddefoot from Newport Pagnell in 2 hours and 45 minutes.

Paul Hinson, chief executive of Willen Hospice, said: "The atmosphere was out of this world.

"I would like to thank everyone involved; walkers, hospice staff and volunteers for making it such a success.

"This was an amazing event, not only for the Hospice but for Milton Keynes and we are already looking forward to next year."

Registrations are now being taken for MK Midnight Moo's return on Saturday, July 17, 2010. Visit www.mkmidnightmoo.com.

Garages for rent

Too much clutter in your home?
Did you know that you can now rent a garage with Milton Keynes Council for storing your domestic items?

Even if you aren't a council tenant you can still rent a garage, so why pay hundreds a month for a private company's storage when you can use one of ours for around £11 a week or possibly less.

Garages in the following areas (subject to availability);

- All the Bletchleys - ie West Bletchley, Far Bletchley, Central Bletchley, Fenny Stratford, plus Lakes Estate.
- Shenley Church End • Great Linford
- Eaglestone • Greenleys
- Hodge Lea • New Bradwell
- Old Bradwell • Stantonbury
- Wolverton • Little Woolstone
- Newport Pagnell • Stony Stratford • Olney
- Most Villages ie Bow Brickhill, Castlethorpe, Chicheley, Emberton, Filgrave, Hanslope, Lavendon, , Sherington, Stoke Goldington, Wavendon, Weston Underwood, Woburn Sands, Woughton on the Green.

With our new Hassle free applications process and prompt decisions it has never been easier.

For more information about how to start renting one of these please call 01908 253446 or e-mail garages@milton-keynes.gov.uk

(Existing garage tenants wanting to use their garage for storage will need to contact their local housing office for a new tenancy agreement).

(Garage rental is subject to Terms and Conditions)

MILTON KEYNES COUNCIL

Watching the birdies

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

FIVE hundred pigeons flew across the heads of onlookers as a race was launched at Campbell Park.

The birds' release was watched by a crowd of people on Saturday morning as part of the Pigeon Archive Exhibition, currently at Milton Keynes Gallery.

The pigeons flew across the city centre before journeying around 80 miles back to their home in north Nottingham.

The winner took one hour and 32 minutes to reach home.

Artist Lyndall Phelps organised the race to coincide with her exhibition, which documents the re-enactment of pigeon manoeuvres undertaken during the First and Second World Wars, through photographs, film and other paraphernalia.

Pigeons released to fly across the city to coincide with the Pigeon Archive exhibition at MK Gallery

She said: "The race is very important as the exhibition focuses on the history of how pigeons were used in war and I was very keen that the Pigeon Archive also look at how pigeons are used today."

Video cameras were attached to three Milton Keynes-based birds and a birds-eye view of the city during their travels will be on show on a large plasma screen TV at the exhibition.

The Pigeon Archive, which will be at Milton Keynes Gallery until August 30, features photographs capturing pigeons in flight wearing cardboard tube message carriers on their back and also attached to parachutes.

Tesco to appeal council's Wolverton decision

TESCO is to appeal against the council's decision to refuse plans to double the size of its store in Wolverton.

The retailer has announced that it will appeal to the Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government to overturn the decision made by Milton Keynes Council's development control committee in May 7.

This means that its application is likely to be subject to a public enquiry in the next few months.

Tony Fletcher, Tesco corporate affairs manager said: "We believe that our original application was totally in line with both the local development plan and Government policy and the refusal at planning committee raises a number of important policy questions which need to be clarified."

Tesco hopes to replace the existing store with a new shop built on stilts, bringing it up to the same level as the shops on Stratford Road. The plans also include a new community centre and four new retail units.

Councillors turned down the application despite a recommendation to give permission by council officers, after deciding the proposals would have a detrimental impact on the viability and vitality of the town centre and be out of keeping with the conservation area.

Jamie Chalmers, founder of a residents' group against Tesco's plans said: "The council's decision was based on the impact on Wolverton and protecting the town."

Designer pizza prize

A PIZZA company is celebrating 25 years in the city by paying homage to one of its most famous residents.

Papa Luigi, based at Stacey Bushes, has designed a special 16-inch pizza in the shape of the city's concrete cows.

Started in 1984 by Stef Malajny and business partners Tony and Sebastian Scibelli, Papa Luigi was the first pizza delivery company in the UK. Back then they offered just four types of pizza, costing up to £2.80 and delivered for 50p.

Stef said: "We came to Milton Keynes because it was a growing town and even today it's still our busiest shop. To celebrate our anniversary we wanted to come up with something to represent Milton Keynes. We came up with this cartoon cow, using black olives for his patches and salami for his feet."

The showpiece cow pizza tis not available to buy, but Stef has challenged the residents of Milton Keynes to send in their ideal toppings for a special 'Milton Keynes' pizza that he wants to create. He also wants readers to suggest a name for the cow pizza.

Send your pizza ideas to competitions@mk-news.co.uk or on a postcard to Pizza Comp, MK NEWS, 1 Diamond Court, Fox Milne, MK15 0DU.The winner will receive five free 12-inch pizza vouchers with a choice of any toppings.

Housing benefit fraudster fined £400

A WOMAN who dodged six appointments with benefit fraud investigators has been fined £400.

Karren Lynch, 32, of Broadlands, Netherfield, pleaded guilty to two counts of fraud at Huntingdon Crown Court on Wednesday (July 15).

The court heard she claimed housing and council tax benefit that she was not entitled to.

She was living with a partner and failed to report this change of circumstances to Milton Keynes Council.

As well as a £400 fine, she was also ordered to pay back the £3,307.04 in benefits she had falsely claimed.

The court heard that the council went ahead with the prosecution, even though fraud investigators had not been able to interview Lynch.

Boy's China trip for medical treatment

China trip: Jake Leonard

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A DISABLED boy has travelled to China to start pioneering treatment that could give him better mobility.

Last Tuesday, a day after his t13th birthday, Jake Leonard from Kilwinning Drive, Monkston, who suffers from cerebral palsy, took a flight to Beijing with his father Stuart to have stem cell surgery.

His parents have raised more than £24,000 to fund his treatment through the 'Just Jake' campaign, launched in July 2008.

Before the flight, Stuart told MK NEWS: "We are all packed and ready to go. We both have a real mix of emotions; we are excited, nervous, apprehensive, everything."

Jake, who attends Oakgrove School, suffered brain damage when he was born prematurely at 32 weeks and was diagnosed with cerebral palsy at eight-months-old.

He is wheelchair bound and has limited movement in his right arm.

During five weeks of treatment he will be given four stem cell injections and undergo physiotherapy, hydrotherapy and acupuncture.

His parents hope this will give him better mobility and independence.

Stuart added: "The support from the local community has been fantastic, from the young boy who gave us his week's pocket money to people that held coffee mornings. It all made the difference and we can't say thank you enough."

■ Stuart will be updating an internet blog on Jake's progress until they return on August 15.

Retired OU gardener found dead in bushes

A GARDENER was found dead in bushes – weeks after he was last seen alive.

Timothy Boutwood, 64, was discovered by a friend at around 2.30pm on Sunday, July 12 in the large rear garden of his cottage at Walton Hall, next to the university where he had worked as a gardener.

An inquest, opened on Friday, heard Mrs Dower and her husband searched his garden and found him in the undergrowth.

Mrs Dower, who had known Tim for 11 years and sometimes did his shopping, said she last saw him the second week in June and spoke to him on the phone a few days later.

She and her husband then went away to celebrate their wedding anniversary. When they had not heard from him on their return they went to his address.

She said: "When we found him he was on his side facing the fence. He just looked like someone who had fallen over and become unconscious."

Kenneth Haynes, Mr Boutwood's cousin, said he was born with a heart problem and had been in hospital over Easter with other health issues.

The inquest was adjourned until October.

Mr Boutwood was unmarried and has no children. He retired due to ill health.

Fresh start for Sir Frank's students

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

A SCHOOL has closed its doors for the final time before pupils and staff transfer to the city's first academy.

The end of term was the end of the school for Sir Frank Markham in Leadenhall, as the £30 million rebuild is under way.

Pupils will return on September 11 to the nearby new building, which occupies a space the size of 11 football pitches.

Last week teachers were removing items ready for the 1970s structures to be bulldozed in October.

Neil Davies, who has taught humanities there for 25 years, said: "This school's been neglected for a long time. It's this community's turn to have the latest things."

Long serving teachers Anne Caines ands Neil Davies packing up

Education foundation Edge has ploughed £2 million into the state-of-the-art rebuild in return for 'sponsorship' of the school.

Mr Davies said: "It's more the style of curriculum that will change. Vocational training, lessons with less of the teacher talking and more of the students doing - that's what the sponsor Edge is committed to."

Technology teacher there for 28 years, Anne Caines, will be in charge of one of the five new 'learning villages' which separate the school.

She said: "We're a school here that's always been innovative, we've always taken on, changed and worked with it, and we are looking forward to having a new start.

"For students in this area to have all these new resources is a really big boost

"It's going to be a new start, new uniform, everything is fresh."

Top company will run Dons' stadium hotel

AN international chain will run the stadiummk hotel.

Doubletree, part of the Hilton family, have agreed a contract for the adjoining hotel at MK Dons' ground.

Doubletree has also become the main sponsor to the Dons' new Nike 2009/10 kit.

The hotel will have one of the best views in Milton Keynes – a number of rooms will look out on to the Dons' pitch.

It will have 127 guest rooms with a restaurant, bar, gym and conference and banqueting facilities.

The hotel will have 24 meeting rooms and capacity for up to 1,000 delegates, and the largest ballroom in the region.

Dons chairman Pete Winkelman said: "The imminent completion of the hotel at stadiummk marks another important milestone in this unique development."

The hotel is expected to open later this year.

I lost weight with SureSlim by eating normal food

LOSE 2 STONE WITH OUR SUMMER SPECIALS

Kate after

I've been comfort eating since about the age of 11. Over the years my weight increased on a massive scale. I had seen adverts for SureSlim but never did anything about it.

Then I was shopping one day and saw the SureSlim Clinic so decided to go in. At the time I was sceptical as I have tried other diets before and I just didn't think I would be able to do it. The diet was so easy to follow and it was fantastic to be able to eat real food not shakes or powdered meals.

I enjoyed experimenting with my food and actually cooking proper meals again. I was staggered that the weight just seemed to drop off, the eating programme is remarkable and really works. I began to feel full of energy and so positive about myself.

I have now reached my goal weight having lost nearly 6 stone. I have never felt as good about myself as I do now, it is very hard to describe how fantastic I feel. Walking past a shop window recently was a real revelation as I couldn't believe it, I didn't think it was me, I looked slim!

I would recommend this plan to anyone. I really feel that this time my weight will stay off forever, my whole attitude to food has changed. I am so positive about the future and now I am maintaining I know my happiness will continue as will my positive relationship with food.

I can't believe it, I look so slim! Kate

Still time to sign up for kids' charity run

RUNNERS in MK can still sign up for the annual NSPCC Half Marathon.

Now in its 11th year in the city the charity run takes place on Sunday, but there is still a chance for people to register and go the extra mile to held end cruelty to children.

Over £260,000 has been raised since the first race in 1999, with money helping to fund services, such as the NSPCC's Milton Keynes School Team, which offers counselling and advice to children, young people and their carers on a range of child welfare matters.

The half marathon, supported by MK NEWS will start at Bury Lawn School in Stantonbury at 10am on Sunday, and the race is open to individuals and teams.

It follows a 13.1 mile flat course through some of the city's scenic red ways and the Grand Union Canal.

Sally Phipps, NSPCC community fundraising manager for MK said: "This is a really popular event and is set to be a great race with an incredible atmosphere.

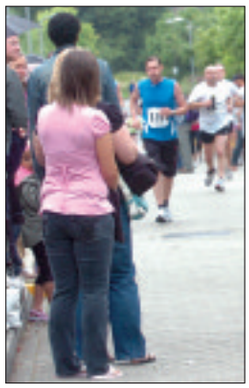
"People of all levels of fitness have the chance to have a go and help us move one step closer to ending cruelty to children.

"Almost 1200 individual and 15 corporate teams have already entered the race but there is still one last chance for others to sign up so we can continue to run a range of projects and services for children, young people and families in the local area."

Thanks to chip timing being introduced last year, runners can get an exact finish time as they cross the finish line and collect their medal.

Entry for individuals is £18 for UK Athlete members, £20 for unaffiliated runners or £25 on the day. The team challenge iss £20 per entrant plus £2 per team for postage.

■ To download an individual or team challenge entry form or for more details, go to www.mkhalfmarathon.org.uk or call 01908 328 060 or email mkhalfmara@nspcc.org.uk



Crowds watch last year's race

Four arrested after cannabis factory raid

THREE men and a boy have been arrested after a police drugs raid uncovered a cannabis factory containing 360 plants.

Officers seized plants and cultivation equipment from a home on Willen Road, Newport Pagnell, at 3pm on Wednesday, July 8.

Three men and a 16-year-old boy were arrested at the property on suspicion of cultivation of the Class B drug, cannabis, with intent to supply.

The men, including two from Hertfordshire, aged 41 and 30, one from Milton Keynes, aged 41, and the boy from Milton Keynes have all been bailed until September.

PC Mark Poulton said: "This was a good, successful warrant; we have been able to shut down the drugs factory and help put a stop to the supply of drugs in our community.

"We will not tolerate drug factories in Milton Keynes.

"We will continue to shut them down and put a stop to drug dealers coming into the city and setting up these factories."

Members of the neighbourhood team can be contacted on 08458 505505 or call Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555111.

Public vote is in for the Restaurant of the Year

WHO will be this year's Restaurant of the Year?

The deadline has been reached for public voting in this year's Milton Keynes Restaurant of the Year Awards.

The votes are being counted and in the next couple of weeks the shortlist will be announced for each category.

The awards are now in their third year and are supported by MK NEWS, Kimbells Solicitors and MK Web and Pauley Digital.

They were introduced to raise awareness of eating out in the Milton Keynes area and to identify the high fliers among our restaurants and eateries.

The overall winner of Restaurant of the Year will be announced in September.

This year has seen the highest number of entries into the competition.

MKNEWS BRIEFS

Get creative in the garden

INTER-ACTION MK is inviting young people to get creative and transform the garden at the Old Rectory in Peartree Bridge.

The garden has been turned into an outdoor gallery where young people aged under 18 can go and be creative, for free and will be open every Monday throughout the summer holidays.

The first workshop starts with 'Pik n' Mix Art' on July, 20 where Inter-Action MK will provide glitter, glue, paint and paper to be arty.

Each workshop is different with some people transforming rubbish to art, learning how to street dance and creating large scale paintings.

All the work created will be displayed throughout the summer in the Old Rectory garden.

For more information visit www.interactionmk.org.uk

Summer holiday fun for kids

KIDS will have the opportunity to take part in activites throughout the summer holidays.

Milton Keynes Council with MK Dons, Make a Difference and the Milton Keynes Council for Voluntary Youth Organisations have organised Freetime MK, which will include activites such as raft-building, kayaking, wall-climbing, football, photography and volunteering.

To find out what's going on in your area visit www.mysaymk.com and do a keyword search for activities, or call the Families Information Service free on 0800 035 0335.

Book for October fire run

THE fire service is calling for runners to take part in its 32nd cross country race.

Buckinghamshire Fire and Rescue Service's annual event takes place in the National Trust-owned Stowe Landscape Gardens on Sunday, October 11.

The five-mile or 2.5-mile runs raise money for The Fire Fighters Charity, the National Trust and Stowe School Sports Fund.

The closing date for entries is Friday, September 17. Entry is £10 per person, plus £2.50 supporters' hot meals if required.

All our yesterdays

A GROUP that has held over 200 projects and events in Milton Keynes is asking for your help to celebrate its work.

Inter-Action MK has received funding from the Heritage Lottery Fund to archive projects and events, held over the past 35 years, which have involved all sections of the community.

The organisation want to hear from tpeople about their memories of the projects and to help identify people and places from photos, videos and audio casettes.

Sex lessons on stage

STUDENTS have been shown the drama of sex and relationships.

Drama company Caught In The Act, has visited Year Nine students across 11 secondary schools in Milton Keynes to educate young people about peer pressure, sex and relationships education, pregnancy, contraception and other issues and to also raise the issues of unprotected sex.

Caught in the Act also explores other issues such as alcohol and bullying.

Manga night at the library

THE Japanese comic art form Manga is coming to Milton Keynes Central Library.

The library is holding an event dedicated to the growing popularity of Manga books and Anime DVDs on Wednesday, July 29 from 7-9pm (doors open at 6.30pm) and is open to everyone, whether a member of the library service or not.

Even the Bible and the works of Shakespeare have been given the Manga treatment.

The event will feature displays, a quiz, drawing demonstration and a competition with prizes.

Tickets are available at the first floor enquiry desk at the Central Library.

Recognition at last for Enigma code crackers

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

FOR years it has remained a mystery why the Government failed to honour the code-breakers of Bletchley Park.

But on Thursday this was rectified with the official launch of veterans' commemorative badges engraved with the words 'we also served'.

Nearly 68 years after Winston Churchill told staff how vital they were to the war effort, the Foreign and Commonwealth Office acknlowleged the perseverance and ingenuity which is thought to have shortened the Second World War by two years.

At the ceremony, attended by chief patron the Duke of Kent, volunteers were presented with long-service awards.

All surviving military and civilian veterans, including those who worked at outposts, can apply for the badges, which are expected to be distributed in September.

Ruth Bourne, who operated the Bombe, the machine which broke Enigma, said: "I shall be very pleased to have the badge. I shall wear it for myself and at least three other girls I worked with who have since passed away.

"When I heard about the badge, I was very exited, very pleased, about it. A lot of us said 'about time too'. We never had any government recognition. When we saw others being recognised we thought 'why not us?'."

Sir Arthur Bonsall, 92, who later became the director of GCHQ, said: "It's a good thing, about time too." He will put his badge in a draw.

Jean Valentine, who was recruited as a Bombe operator when she was 19, said: "The badge will be a nice thing to have but I'm not getting over excited about it. It's a pity it took so long."

Oliver Lawn, 90, and his wife Sheila, 86, welcomed the Government's gesture. Mr Lawn said: "The badge is not important, it's what we feel it represents. It is a recognition of what the codebreaking did for the war, but it also shows the public interest in it now."

The Duke of Kent with Bletchley Park Trust director Simon Greenish stroll back to the Mansion House after a visit to the Bombe exhibition

Bailiffs called in as nightclub closes

A NIGHTCLUB has been forced to close after the bailiffs and police were called in.

Buddha Blue, in the Theatre District, has closed its doors after leasing agents, Savills, called in the bailiffs last week.

Police also attended the venue last Friday to assist as bailiffs searched the building.

The lease has been removed but an existing licensing dispute was unresolved with Milton Keynes Council's Licensing Committee following a violent incident in February.

A sub-commitee removed the club's managing director, Robin Lyle, who is the former BBC DJ, Crucial Robbie, and the club's security contractor, Trojan, was replaced.

A message from the Buddha Blue team on the club's Facebook page said: "Due to increasing pressure from local authorities, Buddha Blue has taken the decision to cease trading. Unfortunately, we became a victim of our own success after building a credible nightclub that attracted people from far to Milton Keynes together with internationally renowned names.

"Many people will be delighted to see the back of Buddha Blue, mostly those that never set foot inside the venue, but many of you will be as sad as we are.

"I would like to thank you for your support."

You have to bin it to win it

£100 could be yours just for sorting your recycling correctly – it's that easy!

With the launch of the green bins on the new food and garden waste scheme, the pink sacks and blue boxes, there are now three different opportunities to bag some free cash each week.

Every week two lucky households are drawn at random by computer.

The recycling team then visits on the morning of your collection to check that everything has been sorted correctly and that your rubbish is all out on the boundary of your property.

Want to be in with a chance of winning?

PINK SACKS should have:

- Paper and card
- Plastic bottles (clean with no lids)
- Clean aluminium foil
- Clean food and drink cans

BLUE BOXES should have:

- Clean glass jars and bottles only

GREEN BINS should have:

- All food and garden waste or
- Garden waste only (if the combined scheme hasn't started in your area)
- All bins, boxes and sacks placed on the boundary of your property

All other waste not listed should go into black sacks. Rubbish mixed in with the recycling will disqualify the household and the team will move down the street and onto your neighbour's recycling.

Milton Keynes Council, together with its cash for trash sponsors Community Waste and Serco, look forward to seeing you bright and early for your chance to win.

To find out more about the Cash for Trash scheme, see recent winners and for rules in full, visit www.milton-keynes.gov.uk/cashfortrash

A Great Big Green Thank You

In the first 3 weeks of the new Food and Garden Waste service, you have helped us to collect 1000 tonnes of waste that would have otherwise headed to landfill.

That is the same as stopping 140 Double Decker buses worth of rubbish being buried, and goes toward saving over £60,000 in landfill taxes alone, money that instead goes toward providing you with a better service.

Thank you for playing your part in making Milton Keynes a greener place to live.

'Ere, you'll never guess who I had in the back of me cab..

THE city has survived a Roman invasion.

Milton Keynes witnessed the return of the empire – only this time by train.

A group of legionnaires descended on the town to spread the word about a recession-busting tourism campaign.

Milton Keynes is the focal point of a drive by tourism bosses in Chester and Cheshire, backed by Virgin Trains boss Sir Richard Branson, to attract people on short breaks through a new initiative, called 'Chester for Less'.

The legionnaires marched through the town to highlight what is on offer and to celebrate Chester and Milton Keynes' Roman links – both communities are on the route of Watling Street Roman road.

A dozen Romans got off the train at Milton Keynes station last Thursday before marching onto the town centre.

There the 'lost legion' asked local people for directions to the ruins of the Roman Villa at Bancroft Park – their ultimate destination.

A history lesson for city centre shoppers

A COLLECTION of historical heroes came roaring through Milton Keynes in a World War Two truck on Monday, on a reconnaissance mission for this year's Festival of History.

Passengers aboard the three-ton, 20ft 1940s G3 military half-track vehicle included Henry VIII, a Roman soldier, a GI from the Second World War and a Suffragette.

The visit marked the 500th anniversary of Henry's coronation and offered shoppers outside the Xscape building a sneak preview of this weekend's festival.

Festival of History is English Heritage's largest event, bringing together a cast of more than 1,000 historical interpreters from all eras, and entertaining visitors with jousts, tank displays and aerial dogfights.

The action takes place at Kelmarsh Hall in Northamptonshire on July 25 and 26.

Ski legends join ski-a-thon effort

TV presenter Graham Bell: Taking part in the 12-hour team challenge to raise money for the Spinal Injuries Association

TV's Ski Sunday star to take part in SNO!zone charity challenge

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A SKIING hero is to take part in the UK's first ski-a-thon at the SNO!zone.

Graham Bell, former Olympic skier and presenter on BBC's Ski Sunday, will take part in the 12-hour team endurance challenge to raise money for the Spinal Injuries Association (SIA) on September 12.

He will be joined on the slopes in the Xscape, Central Milton Keynes by top British downhiller Ed Drake, Richard Parrott, member of the Great Britain Telemark Ski team, top free skier, James Webb, and of the British Disabled Ski Team member, Talan Skeels-Piggins..

Paul Smith, executive director of SIA said: "It is an absolute privilege to have the support of some of Great Britain's living skiing legends. They are an inspiration to all participants and have added a new dimension to the event for which we are incredibly grateful."

The ski-a-thon, which was originally going to be held in June, was delayed until September as a large number of teams from businesses across the UK pulled out at the last minute leaving a fund-raising shortfall.

The charity says the team count is now growing each day and is already much higher than it was in early June. A spokesman said: "The Territorial Army has signed up and various armed forces winter sports associations are putting teams together."

Butterfly survey finds rare Black Hairstreak

A RARE butterfly has been rediscovered in a wood in Milton Keynes where it had been feared extinct.

Volunteers and staff of The Parks Trust had been undertaking butterfly surveys at several sites in Milton Keynes throughout June.

Two Black Hairstreaks were spotted by volunteer Miranda Hamish-Wilson at Howe Park Wood and following this initial find, the butterfly has be verified by two further sightings in two separate areas of the wood, dispelling fears that it had disappeared totally.

The small butterfly is one of the rarest in the UK being found at only 70 sites over a very small range between Oxfordshire and Cambridgeshire. Its population is centred in North Bucks and Northamptonshire and until the 1960s was found in several locations locally.

Since then, sightings have been rare and it was last seen in Howe Park Wood in 2000. It lives high up in blackthorn bushes making it difficult to spot.

The Black Hairstreak: Rediscovered in Howe park Wood

Martin Kincaid, The Parks Trust's volunteers co-ordinator, said: "It is terrific news that all our efforts have been rewarded by the rediscovery of the Black Hairstreak. We will now continue to monitor its population closely and we hope to find more colonies next year."

■ If anyone is interested in volunteering to help survey for butterflies and other wildlife please contact The Parks Trust on 01908 233600 or visit www.theparkstrust.com

Filipino festival offers dancing and ice cream

A MULTI-CULTURAL festival will be held in Campbell Park this weekend.

The Milton Keynes Filipino Anglo Society will hold its 17th annual Bario Fiesta at the amphitheatre from 10am to 4pm.

The event raises money for charities including a children's orphanage in the Philippines, Willen Hospice and the children's ward at Milton Keynes Hospital.

There will be stalls, Filipino, Irish and Indian dancing, oriental foods and Filipino ice cream.

A 'Mr and Mrs' pageant will be held on Saturday at 1pm and a Munting Prinsesa (Little Princess) on Sunday. There will also be a parade from MK Theatre to the park on Sunday at 11am.

THE TAKING OF PELHAM ONE. TWO, THREE (15)

Denzel Washington, John Travolta, James Gandolfini

From Friday

NEW York. A man calling himself Ryder (Travolta) leads a gang who hijack a subway train, hold the passengers hostage and demand a huge ransom from the city. Public transportation manager Walter Garber (Denzel Washington) handles the negotiations with the crooks.

THE PROPOSAL (12A)

Sandra Bullock, Ryan Reynolds, Mary Steenburgen, Craig T Nelson

From Friday

CANADIAN book agent Margaret Tate (Bullock) cajoles her assistant Andrew (Reynolds) into marrying her in order to maintain her visa status and sidestep deportation from the US. In order to fool the authorities, the pair take off to Paxton's parents in Alaska to get to know each other better.

ANTICHRIST (18)

Willem Dafoe, Charlotte Gainsbourg

From Friday

AFTER the accidental death of their child, a therapist (Dafoe) and his wife (Gainsbourg) – listed in the credits only as He and She – retreat to a cabin in the perhaps-haunted woods to recover. Eventually, they turn savagely on each other and bloody mayhem ensues.

John Travolta in The Taking of Pelham 123

SKIN (12A)

Sophie Okonedo, Sam Neill

From Friday

A YOUNG girl is born to white South African parents but appears to be black herself. This raises issues of prejudice in her school and neighbourhood.

CHARLES DICKENS'S ENGLAND

Derek Jacobi, Roy Hattersley

From Friday

DEREK Jacobi takes us around all the English landmarks that featured Dickens' life and works.

HARRY POTTER AND THE HALF-BLOOD PRINCE (12A)

Daniel Radcliffe, Emma Watson, Jim Broadbent, Rupert Grint, Tom Felton, Helen McCrory, Alan Rickman, Maggie Smith, Michael Gambon, David Thewlis, Helena Bonham Carter, Julie Walters,

From Friday

DEATH Eaters are on the rampage, Dumbledore (Gambon) has a task for Harry (Radcliffe), Draco Malfoy (Fenton) has a secret mission for Voldemort, adolescent hormones are raging and Harry inherits an old school text with notes from the mysterious Half-Blood Prince.

Closing date Tuesday, July 28. Editor's decision is final.

SIMON DARNELL

SHE BANGS THE DRUMS

Stone Roses

YOU know what the sign of a good song is? There are several, actually.

One of them is not having the name Celine Dion printed on the CD cover, but the most important one is when you listen to a 20-year-old song and it still sounds as though it could slot straight back into the Top 40 tomorrow.

Step forward the Stone Roses – they're in the middle of having a load of their singles re-issued, so if I wanted to I could've concentrated my fire on Fool's Gold. However, I've already reviewed that one before, so instead here's the one they released before it.

The beat sounds like it was recorded in an abandoned warehouse, Ian Brown's singing 'Kiss me where the sun don't shine, the past was yours but the future's mine',.

But it's the good cop/bad cop routine between the guitar and bass that makes this song a winner.

The guitar's all jingly and jangly in the foreground, while the bass lurks away in the background, not doing too much but definitely making its presence felt.

This hasn't aged at all in 20 years, which is probably the highest praise I can give.

SPACE ODDITY

David Bowie

OH look, another good song, but this one has dated. Boy, has it dated.

Yes, it's a classic but be honest, it does sound very much of its time, which is the late 1960s. What needs to happen is for this song to be brought up to date which, given the stuff in the charts these days, means you only need to take acouple of decades off its age.

So far, so ancient-song-gets-reissued-whoopee-doo. We've been here before, but this next bit's new.

You know how sometimes old songs get remixed by someone who makes a complete cock-up of the whole affair? Well, Mr Bowie hasn't bothered with that. There are no remixes. Instead, he's given you all the bits for the song so you can go off and mix the thing yourself!

If you're the sort of person who listens to a remix and thinks 'my granny could do better than that', well, here's your chance to prove it.

Give her the parts and see what happens.

IT might be summer but there is real snow all year round at SNO!zone, Milton Keynes' indoor snow sports centre, and you could be in with a chance of winning a truly cool day on the slopes for you and your family.

MK NEWS has teamed up with SNO!zone to offer five families* the chance to go sledging or ice sliding during the summer holidays.

Whatever the weather outside it is always minus five degrees at SNO!zone where it snows every night to provide the perfect conditions for skiing and snowboarding on the main 170m long main snow slope.

No experience is needed as the centre also has a lesson slope for beginners to learn skiing or snowboarding from a team of qualified instructors.

If you do not fancy skiing or snowboarding you can still enjoy fun in the snow by trying sledging or even ice sliding, an exhilarating course carved out of the ice which you speed down in an inflatable ring.

Off the slope SNO!zone visitors can enjoy some apres-ski at alpine themed SNO!bar which serves a variety of hot and cold drinks and meals throughout the day.

The SNO!bar also plays host to regular live music, comedy and clubnights to keep the fun going through to the small hours.

All equipment is included, all you need to bring is a pair of gloves.

For more information visit www.snozoneuk.com or call 0871 222 5672.

*Family pass is for two adults and two children (children must be aged over three to go sledging or over seven to use the ice slide).

HOW TO ENTER

To win a family day on the slopes simply answer the following question. What was the name of the former British Olympic ski jumper famous for competing at the 1988 winter Olympics?

a) Eddie 'The Elephant' Edwards
b) Eddie 'The Eagle' Edwards
c) Eddie 'The Eel' Edwards

Send your answer on a postcard, including your telephone number and address, to: SNO!zone Competition, MK NEWS, 1 Diamond Court, Fox Milne, MK15 0DU.

Alternatively e-mail your answer and contact details to: competitions@mk-news.co.uk

Deadline for entries is July 29, the editor's decision is final.

Summer holiday fun for all the family

SUMMER OF FUN

IF you're dreading the summer holidays with long days and nothing to do, then Great Linford Parish Council has just the thing for your family – its Summer of Fun activity programme.

There's something to do every weekday with events including football coaching, juggling and circus skills, basketball and baseball coaching and Indian Dhol drumming as well as traditional games, face painting, bouncy castles and lots more.

There's also a street football tournament.

Activities organised by the council are being provided by Milton Keynes Play Association, MK Lions, Football First, Baseball MK, Make a Difference and other groups.

The juggling and circus skills workshops, the Dhol drumming workshops, football coaching and the Street Football Tournament all cost £1 but all other events are free.

Events will be held at GLPC's sports facilities at Marsh Drive, Great Linford and Pannier Place, Downs Barn, the Memorial Hall at Great Linford and the Astroturf at Stantonbury Campus.

The fun starts on Monday, July 20 with a drumming workshop and runs through to August 27.

Tickets for the workshops and football coaching are available from the parish council offices at 10 Tower Crescent, Neath Hill Local Centre (opposite the Clocktower) which is open 9am-4pm weekdays.

Telephone 01908 606613 or log on to the parish website at: www.great-linford.gov.uk

For football tournament tickets contact www.mad-uk.org

Parish councillor Elizabeth McMillan said: "We organised the programme to help bring different parts of the parish together and so create a stronger community spirit. With less money about for the holidays we felt it was important to keep costs down."

OPEN-AIRTHEATRE

A MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM

Campbell Park

Friday, July 24

Enter an enchanted forest full of magic, humour, music and romance and join The Parks Trust for one of Shakespeare's best loved comedies – A Midsummer Night's Dream.

Will the mis-matched lovers find their way through the wood, will the King and Queen of the fairies resolve their differences and will love conquer all?

Enjoy this magical open-air performance of Shakespeare's funny and romantic classic on Friday, July 24 in Campbell Park.

Performed by the Illyria Theatre Company this is a tale of flitting fairies, forest-bound lovers and raucous tradesmen all joining together to provide a perfect summer's evening of entertainment.

Bring a picnic, seat and blanket and then enjoy the show set against the stunning backdrop of Campbell Park.

The performance will go on whatever the weather so be prepared for rain or shine.

The event takes place at Campbell Park Pavilion and costs £7 per adult, £5 per child or £20 per family of four. Tickets must be bought in advance.

To book your tickets call The Parks Trust's on 01908 233600 or visit www.theparkstrust.com

Parking is available free at Campbell Park Pavilion and at Avebury Boulevard.

JOSEPH AND THE AMAZING TECHNICOLOR DREAMCOAT
Until Sunday, July 26
Tim Rice and Andrew Lloyd Webber's sparkling family musical, continues to dazzle audiences.
The most popular finalist in the hit BBC series Any Dream Will Do, Craig Chalmers, has come to Milton Keynes in the leading role.
The musical retells the famous biblical story of Joseph, his 11 brothers and the famous colourful coat.

MAGIC OF THE DANCE
Thursday, July 30-Saturday, August, 1
CELEBRATING its 10th year this year, the fast paced, energetic show celebrates the history of Ireland in one exciting dance production. The high-octane show has innovative choreography by eight-times world champion John Carey, and haunting narrative by Hollywood idol Christopher Lee. Magic of the Dance has enchanting music, and is still the hottest ticket in town.

The Spooky Men's Chorale

THE PITZ 660392

SOLSTICE
Plus Graham Hulbert
Friday, July 24
ENGLISH kings (and queens) of progressive folk rock, the recently reunited Solstice are now based locally.
Formed in 1980, when Blondie, the Specials, Joe Jackson and the Police were heading the charts, a folk-tinged prog rock outfit like Solstice should not have stood a chance.
But audiences felt otherwise and Solstice played to sell outs.
The current line-up incudes award winning producer and drummer for Page and Plant, Pete Hemsley along with Andy Glass – guitar, Jenny Newman – fiddle, Robin Phillips – bass, Steve McDaniel – keyboards, Emma Brown – vocals.
Support Graham Hulbert started writing and performing music about people and for people10 years ago and has been in various bands. His solo expedition however is where he has ended up in the grand melodic scheme of things.
Tickets £8 (£6 under 18s & students). Doors 7.30pm.

Run for your money

CANCER Research UK is asking men and women to help fund their life-saving work.

Run 10k is a series of 43 fundraising events held across the UK this autumn where men and women come together to help beat cancer.

The Milton Keynes run is taking place at Campbell Park on Sunday, October 4 starting at 11am.

Running 10k might seem like a challenge but anyone can do it with a little bit of training.

Everyone has a different reason for entering Run 10K; many are beginner runners trying to get fit, some take part to beat their personal best, whilst others use the event as a focus to train while battling cancer or to cope with losing a loved one.

Marathon effort provides kids with food for a year

BIG-HEARTED and fast-footed employees at Milton Keynes-based express delivery giant TNT have delivered a whopping £25,000 boost to feed and educate 1,000 malnourished children in Tanzania for a year.

The recession-busting charity fundraisers based at the Milton Keynes depot at Northfield Drive, Northfield held a fun-packed week of activities in June to raise money for the United Nations' World Food Programme (WFP).

Entitled 'Fight Hunger Week,' the initiative saw thousands of TNT employees in the UK unite with employees in Milton Keynes to raise the cash for the WFP.

The money raised by TNT will be channelled into the WFP's School Feeding Programme whereby children in developing countries are encouraged to attend school and receive a free nourishing meal. All the donations from TNT will go to provide much-needed nutrition and education for youngsters in Tanzania.

Mike Brooks depot General Manager said: "It costs just 7p per day to feed and educate a child in Tanzania or £25 a year. The initiative is part of an ongoing partnership that has already seen TNT in the UK generate more than £300,000 since 2004 to support the excellent work undertaken by the WFP."

More than 60 TNT depots and offices combined their efforts as part of the specially designated week with a bewildering array of fund-raising activities from fancy dress days, chest waxings, depot beauty salons, health checks, running and rowing challenges, cake baking, noodle-eating, managers in stocks, auctions, raffles and car valeting, to name but a few.

Marathon effort: TNT UK regional MD Tom Bell, centre, joins the Milton Keynes TNT runners on the finish line on their 'Running on Empty' marathon relay challenge

Highlight of the week was the 'Running on Empty' marathon relay challenge - more than 30 employees took it in turns to run the equivalent distance of a marathon, raising £2,000 towards the £25,000 grand total.

Mike added: "It was a fantastic effort from the team. Everyone was really enthused by Fight Hunger Week and it was great to see staff conjuring up some cracking fund-raising events to raise money. The 'Running on Empty' challenge really captivated the imagination of the staff. Our 2009 donation goes some way to providing real hope and a brighter future for hungry children in Tanzania. We do take our corporate responsibilities very seriously and this is an ideal way to help those most in need."

Wolverton gets a new estate agent

A NEW estate agents has opened its doors.

Creative Estate Agents in Church Street, Wolverton

Mark Penn, director said: "Creative Estate Agents has been launched to help people live in the homes they want to live in, we are not here just to buy and sell property."

"Estate Agents have over the years got an increasingly bad name for feathering their own nests, only acting on the instructions that would yield them the greatest commissions and hindering both buyer and seller alike. We feel that a new housing market with new difficulties needs a new breed of estate agents and that is why we are opening our doors with some unique solutions to current property problems."

Mark and his team have a great deal of experience and have worked for some of the most well known and respected estate agencies in the country. Anyone that calls will be given a realistic indication of what their house will sell for within 12 weeks, 8 weeks or even 48 hours there and then on the phone.

"It's about service and making good on the promises we make" concludes Mark, "we are not just another estate agents, people that come to us will know exactly where they stand, in relation to the sale of their property, at all times."

Hydrogen-powered car points to the future of personal transport

A COLLABORATION between leading automotive engineering facilities, including Cranfield University, has seen the development of a unique lightweight hydrogen-powered car the Riversimple Urban Car.

The brainchild of former-motorsport engineer and Cranfield MBA student, Hugo Spowers, the car has taken 10 years to become a reality.

The two-seater car can reach up to 50 mph and travel 240 miles before the need for refueling.

The car uses a hydrogen fuel cell, has an electric motor on each wheel, stores a high proportion of the energy generated when braking in a bank of ultra-capacitors and has a body made of lightweight composites.

The £5million project has so far been funded by the family of Ernst Piech and a grant from the UK-based BOC Foundation.

The engineering team has involved Cranfield University, Oxford University and Horizon Fuel Cell Technologies. Cranfield's Department of Automotive Engineering created the system which allows the driver to control the car's movements.

James Marco, lecturer in Department of Automotive Engineering, said: "Our software is what pulls all the elements together and moves it from individual parts to a functioning vehicle."

Former director of Cranfield's School of Management, John Constable, is now chairman of Riversimple.

He said: "Hugo set out to design a sustainable car which would dramatically affect the car industry and the cars that we use during his MBA. His thinking was ahead of its time and showed great initiative and thinking outside the box.† It is a remarkable achievement.

"It is an electric car with a lot of electronics and software in it which controls everything going on. Cranfield helped to integrate all the systems together. Cranfield is one of the few universities in the UK that has an automotive department and we chose the University because of the skills and facilities available."

Hugo's company Riversimple now has to raise a further £20 million to build ten prototypes by the end of next year, and a further 50 by the end of 2011. It is hoped this money will also fund the designing of a manufacturing factory.

The Riversimple Urban Car will be leased to individuals, companies and car clubs. The long term goal is to eliminate the environmental impact of personal transport and build a hydrogen refueling infrastructure in cities around the country.

Mr Constable added: "It is realistic to expect a commercially viable hydrogen fuel cell car option in the next 5 to 10 years. We realise this car won't remove the combustion engine car from the market in the short to medium term, but it will provide a wider choice for the public."

The brainchild of former motorsport engineer and Cranfield MBA student, Hugo Spowers, the Riversimple Urban Car has taken 10 years to become a reality

River Island centre confirmed

RIVER Island has confirmed it will proceed with developing a new national distribution building at Magna Park.

The facility will comprise two interconnecting units, totalling 480,000 sq ft (44,572 sq m), with over 380 car parking spaces and 125 spaces for lorries. The development will be located alongside John Lewis on the 23 acre site that River Island acquired last year. Completion is set for 2011.

Graham Brown, UK head of industrial agency at Savills, said: "In a period of economic turbulence the decision to press ahead with this development confirms the long term commitment to this site as well as satisfying the need for a highly efficient logistics facility to meet the forecast operational needs for the expanding River Island retail business."

River Island currently occupies distribution units at Tongwell totalling 100,000 sq ft (9,290 sq m) and 200,000 sq ft (18,580 sq m), which will be vacated and leased or sold when River Island relocates to the Magna Park site.

Domino's gets a pizza the action

WORK is continuing at the new Domino's Pizza commissary at West Ashlands.

The substantial workforce of more than 182 people including architects, construction workers, plumbers, glaziers and other skilled craftsmen and labourers are continuing to work hard on the £20million project.

The new commissary design was created by Q2 architects and the lead contractors are the Buckingham Group.

Food service director, Gareth Franks, said: "The construction has seen many changes over the last few weeks and we are really pleased with the progress.

"The loading bank is now in place. It is good to see such a fantastic move forward with the new build, we are very excited about this new site and are enjoying watching the building take shape week by week.

It will make such a huge difference to our operation and will ensure that we can make dough and store and supply all the other raw materials and equipment needed for our 550+ stores."

New offices no bog standard workplace

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A COMPANY hopes its business venture won't be flushed down the pan after moving into a former public toilet.

No1 Showplates has bought a converted public toilet block in George Street, Fenny Stratford for £70,000.

The company, currently based in Bletchley, operates via its website www.no1showplates.co.uk and manufactures a range of vehicle number plates that can be personalised by colour, font and the addition of slogans.t will use its new home as a base while it expands.

Steve Clarke, of No.1 Showplates, said: "It's the perfect size and is only down the road from our current offices, so making the investment was very timely.

"Our staff are all fairly local and as we are expanding these new premises are just what we need."

The converted toilet block was one of the lots sold by Michael Anthony in a recent auction at Hatfield House. Originally owned by Milton Keynes Council, the 400 sq.ft. building was decommissioned at the end of 2003 and then convertby Michael Anthony working in association with Elliott Auctions.ed into offices.

Steve Clarke of No1 Showplates in Milton Keynes paid £70,000 for these converted public toilets in Fenny Stratford

Round Tablers go karting

THE Deepings Round Table held their 13th Annual Charity F1 Karting Challenge at Daytona, Milton Keynes.

The 12 hour race, which over the years has raised in excess of £140,000 for charity, again received outstanding support, with 31 teams making the starting grid.

Among this year's entrants were five F1 teams (including Brawn GP, Renault, Red Bull and Williams), together with a Formula 2 Allstars kart containing 4 of the most talented young drivers in the UK.

Following a competitive qualifying session, the Friday night continued with a charity auction of rare and unique F1 and automotive items, including a race session to be completed by Top Gear's 'The Stig'.

Event organiser James Wright said 'The turnout and level of generosity for the event and auction was overwhelming, especially given the challenging economic environment. Total proceeds from the event look to exceed £15,500, all of which will be donated to good causes. Our sincere thanks goes out to everyone who has supported us in making this year a fantastic success.'

HEAD OF CUSTOMER CONTACT

Project Management and Delivery
Circa £65k + car allowance + benefits

This is a new post which will be key in delivering our vision to create places where everyone is proud to live. It will be responsible for scoping, shaping and implementing a customer service centre to provide customers with 'right first time' services and information. We are committed to investing significantly in this approach to improve customer services and in the longer term create efficiencies of service delivery.

You will be a skilled manager and communicator who can translate our vision for effective customer services into reality, ensuring that the services are genuinely customer focussed and effective. The ability to deliver on time and on budget is essential as is the need to manage conflicting priorities across a range of diverse functions, whilst retaining a passion for customer excellence in keeping with bpha's core values and behaviours.

Whichever professional background you are from is less important than your track record of project management and delivery and managing and motivating teams to excel and succeed against a backdrop of significant culture change. Experience of implementing a customer service centre approach would be an advantage.

We won't let anything get in the way

We know that we can't control everything that you come up against. But if we can prevent some of the distractions that slow your great progress, we will. Which is why we have a team of liaison officers to filter calls that you usually have to handle. This gives you more time with people, less time on the phone and greater results for everyone.

As well as qualified social workers, we are also looking for a Reviewing Officer to ensure that the services we offer always meet the needs of the community and are delivered to a high standard.

PRESS COMPLAINTS COMMISSION

PRESS COMPLAINTS COMMISSION – PUBLIC MEMBER

Applications are invited for a new public member of the PCC, the body that deals with complaints about the editorial content of UK newspapers and magazines and their websites (including audio-visual material). The appointment – which is made by an independent Appointments Commission – is for a term of three years.

Membership – which comes with remuneration of £11.25k per annum – involves nine board meetings in central London each year (usually on a Wednesday afternoon), and occasional ad hoc Committee work. In addition, Commission members are sent papers for consideration each week.

Applicants will need to demonstrate a record of achievement in their own walk of life, an interest in and appreciation of the dynamics of a free press and new media, an acceptance of the principles of self regulation, and an ability to analyse and digest a large amount of written material. Because of the importance of the Commission's independence, applicants should not have been employed in the newspaper and magazine publishing industry – at management or editorial level – for the last ten years.

A job description is available on the PCC's website – www.pcc.org.uk. Applications must be made by Tuesday September 1st 2009; interviews of a shortlist of candidates are expected to take place in early October. Full details of application procedure are contained in the job description. For those without access to the internet, a copy can be obtained from Kim Baxter, PCC, Halton House, 20/23 Holborn, London, EC1N 2JD.

Quality service at affordable prices...

Our customers come from all over the country because of our good name and personal service. Our workshop is not housed behind a flashy reception area where you hand your keys over and your car disappears not to be seen again until you pay your bill. We run an open workshop where the customer is shown what's wrong with their car and you can discuss the solutions with the engineer.

Servicing to above main dealer standards. Audi trained technicians. "Having your car serviced with us does not affect your manufacturers warranty"

City close in on league leaders

CRICKET

Morrants Four Counties League DIVISION ONE

MK City have moved to within nine points of league leaders Eaton Bray.

City beat New Bradwell by seven wickets to close the gap on the table toppers.

New Bradwell set the pace with Teemoor Alam's 72 but it was City bowlers who impressed with Mo Shahid (3-21) and Pete Heady (3-33) helping dismiss the side for 148.

Raj Lall hit an unbeaten 70 as City claimed the victory.

Eaton Bray's lead was dented due to their draw with Newport Pagnell.

A total of 203-6, with 49 from James Flacknell and 43 not out but Andy Norris, saw Eaton reach 203-6.

Newport, who still haven't won a game this season, held out to 165-7 for the draw.

A brilliant knock of 128 from Sam Howe saw North Crawley beat Winslow Town by 169 runs.

Howe's innings came from 68 balls in 71 minutes - a new club record for the quickest hundred by an individual batsman.

Crawley declared on 304-4, and then dismissed Winslow for 135.

Elstow lost by 89 runs to Cublington and stay in sixth place.

Cublington set 211-5 as the target and only Pip Johnson (54)

Second from bottom Old Bradwell beat Aspley Guise by one wicket.

Aspley set 131-8 at the end of their innings, and despite the efforts of James Gage (5-16) they could not avoid defeat as Elstow reached 132-9.

Cherwell League DIVISION ONE

BLETCHLEY Town suffered a crushing 137-run defeat away at Oxford.

The home side went in to bat first and recovered from 34-3 to finish all out for 248.

In reply Town lost James Ward for five, Graham Simpson (17) and Kenroy Hollis (29) added runs but wickets soon tumbled.

When Ghufran Mohammed was bowled Bletchley were all out for 111.

Bucks County Cup

THE Ducksworth Lewis Method cost Bletchley Town their place in the Bucks Cup.

In truth Bletchley (197-5) were likely to bow out of the competition anyway as High Wycombe were on track for the victory when the rain set.

High Wycombe were at 183-6 when the rain hit, and on the count back rules Bletchley lost by four wickets.

Northants Premier League

STONY Stratford earned their fourth victory of the season after beating Brixworth by eight wickets.

After winning the toss and opting to bowl Stony gained frequent wickets throughout Brixworth's innings.

Dion Ebrahim, Nathan Hawkes and Steve Bellew took two wickets each as Brixworth finished on 205-7.

It was a decent total but Stony's batsmen were in fine form as Kieran Price (33) and Nick Allen (50) got the side going.

Ebrahim (66no) and Hawkes (47no) sealed the win to stay eighth in the table.

Joey in close call for gold

ATHLETICS

MILTON Keynes runner Joey Duck warmed up for the London Grand Prix with a gold medal at the European Under-23 Championship in Kaunas, Lithuania.

After disappointment in the individual 200metres Duck signed off from the championship by collecting gold in the women's 4x100m final.

But the race was so close Duck admitted thinking the team had crossed the line in third place.

There were expectations of a medal for the local side, but it was Great Britain who disappointed the home crowd by taking first place.

The quartet of Annabelle Lewis, Duck, Lucy Sargent and Elaine O'Neill recorded an impressive victory in 43.89 seconds.

It was victory by a hairline margin of 0.01s from Poland, with the Lithuanians a further 0.19s behind.

Duck said: "I was screaming, 'we've got bronze, we've got bronze. And then we saw we'd won. I think we knew we could do it so long as we got the changeovers right."

The 20-year-old had earlier missed out on the 200m final after finishing fourth in her semi-final.

The Great Britain team left Kaunas with an unprecedented 18 medals, and now attentions will turn to the London Grand Prix this Friday.

It is Britain's show piece athletics event, which takes place at Crystal Palace over two days.

Six athletes from Marshall Milton Keynes Athletics Club are due to take part in the competition alongside Olympic champions and the world's elite.

Craig Pickering will be hoping to hit form in the men's 100m, Greg Pickerting is scheduled to compete in the long jump while Mervyn Luckwell will star in the javelin.

Team mates Duck and Kadi-Ann Thomas will hope to go head to head in both the women's 100 and 200m, and Hannah Douglas will take part in the 400m hurdles.

Midfielders agree deals

BY SIMONE CORGAN

simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

MARK Carrington and Richie Partridge have become the latest players to sign for Paul Ince's MK Dons.

Fresh from the weekend signings of goalie Stuart Searle and Lewis Gobern, Ince moved quickly to snap up out-of-contract Carrington and Partridge.

Defensive midfielder Carrington was released by Crewe Alexandra following their relegation to League Two at the end of the last season.

Warrington-born Carrington signed a two-year-deal at the Dons and will fill the hole left by Alan Navarro's departure earlier this summer.

Former Chester City midfielder Partridge put pen to paper yesterday following a successful trial during the Dons' pre-season defeat at Windsor & Eton. Partridge, 28, agreed a one-year deal with the Dons.

Ince has now brought in Jemal Johnson, Jermaine Easter, Searle, Gobern, Carrington and Partridge since returning to stadiummk earlier this month.

Ten trailists took part in the Dons' 2-1 defeat to the Royallists, including former Don Malvin Kamara, but it was Johnson and Gobern, after signing a one-year deal with a one year option from Wolves, who brought the game to life. Bruce Wilson and Michael Channells scored for Windsor & Eton, before Johnson grabbed an injury time consolation from the spot.

Ince allowed Alex Rae and Paul Mitchell to coach the game during the first half while he and assistant Karl Robinson watched on from the stands, before shouting the orders from the sidelines in the second half.

Speaking afterwards, Mitchell told MK NEWS: "Pre-season games are used as a fitness exercise, to get your team together and give people a chance to really impress and that's what it was today a showcase for the players to come in on trial and impress the Gaffer."

Dons will set up their pre-season when they take on Rushden & Diamonds on Saturday, before hosting Premier League new boys, and Ince's old side, Wolves.

■ Last night the Dons took on Hampton & Richmond Borough in a friendly. For match report log on to: www.mk-news.co.uk

Win Dons new home kit

MK Dons have unveiled their brand new look, and sponsor, for their 2009/10 season.

The club agreed a new partnership with Doubletree by Hilton Hotel, who will now take on the main shirt sponsor, as well as operating the hotel adjoining stadiummk.

The new Nike kit will see the Dons wearing a white shirt with black sleeves, white shorts and white socks as their first choice strip, and a red shirt with white sleeves, red shorts and red socks as their second kit.

As a third kit the shirt is gold with black sleeves, black shorts and black socks.

MK NEWS have teamed up with MK Dons to offer one lucky reader the entire home kit so they look the part when the Dons host Hartlepool in the first game of the season on August, 1.

The home shirt is on sale from Tuesday, July 28 and available to pre-order now.

To be in with a chance of winning the home kit answer the following question:

Who is the main shirt sponsor for the new MK Dons kit?

Send your answer along with your name, address, telephone number and kit size to MKNEWS, 1 Diamond Court, Fox Milne, Milton Keynes, MK15 0DU, or email competitions@mk-news.co.uk.

Closing date July 29. Editor's decision is final. First correct answer drawn out of the hat wins.

SPORTSSHORTS

Gymnasts off to Olympics

MILTON Keynes gymnastics team SNUGS, the Special Needs Unit Gymnasts, are getting a special VIP send-off from the Milton Keynes Council offices on Saturday.

An eight-strong team will head off to Leicester to take part in the Special Olympics national finals, it is the first the team has entered the event which will include over 2,7700 athletes from around the county.

Katherine Marfleet, Laura Stallard, Stevie Bolas, Jannette Sharpe, Rory Stubbs, Jennifer Stubbs, Teresa Law and Paul Whyman will be waved off by Cllr Euan Henderson as they travel in a white limousine up the motorway.

The SNUGS are a group of young people with physical, sensory and learning disabilities such as cerebral palsy and Down's Syndrome who have an aptitude and enthusiasm for gymnastics and trampolining.

Poulter disappointed

IAN Poulter slammed his own performance at the Open in Turnberry.

The golfer crashed out of the competition at the halfway stage after totalling a disastrous 14-over.

Poulter carded nine-over 79 on the Friday to bow out of the Open, a competition he came second in last year.

The Woburn professional was honest in his assessment of his performance.

He said: "It's disappointing going out there wanting to win after a nice build-up, playing well and loving the course. The problem was me. The course was irrelevant."

Kicks for free

MK Ladies Thai-Kickboxing team were in action at the weekend.

The team competed in the combudo two event in Milton Keynes, and one kickboxer came out victorious.

Dawn Harden was up against Wendy Ellis, from Warrington, and only nine points separated them after the first round.

However, in the second and third Harden dominated and won on points.

Dawn McDermott was left to sit and watch as her opponent pulled out the day before the match.

The Amateur Kickboxing Association circuit gives competitors a focus for their training in the dojo as well as a way to get fit and learn self-defence.

Red Bull look for hat-trick

BY SIMONE CORGAN

simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

RED Bull Racing have their sights set on a hat-trick of one-two finishes.

If they manage to pull off a top two finish for the third successive race at this weekend's Hungarian Grand Prix they will have eaten further into Brawn GP's lead.

As it stands Jenson Button is topping the Drivers' Championship with 68 points, but Red Bull's Sebastian Vettel is second with 47 points behind, and team mate Mark Webber is trailing by just one and a half points.

At the midway point in the season both Brawn, whose second driver Rubens Barrichello is fourth, and Red Bull have surprised most by setting the standard in Formula One this year.

And now MK-based Red Bull are now firmly within a shot of claiming the world championship title, in the year when they won their first race.

But with the two drivers so close in the title chase questions have already been raised as to who the team will back to go all out and win.

However, team principal Christian Horner says Red Bull will continue to support Vettel and Webber an equal amount for as long as possible.

He said: "There's a long way to go to catch up with Jenson Button. If and when we reach a point where there is a significant gap, or it becomes mathematically impossible for one of them to challenge for the Championship, then they are both team players and one of them will play a supporting role should it be required.

"Our intention is to see both of the catch the lead Brawn as quickly as possible.

"Our drivers are both at the top of their game at different stages in their careers and they are pushing one another very hard. I think we've got the best driver line-up in F1 at the moment."

Remarkably, Webber's victory in Germany two weeks ago was his first in 130 races, and it came seven months after breaking his shoulder and leg.

Webber will have the screws removed from his right leg after the Hungarian GP, giving his four weeks to recover ahead of the next race.

Horner added: "I think it's only now we are seeing Mark at the level of fitness he was at prior to his injury and his recent results show he is absolutely on the form of his life. Sebastian is undoubtedly a star in the making. He shows remarkable maturity, given his lack of experience.

"He is a prodigious talent who will continue to get better. The best is yet to come from him. Both men are being treated with total fairness within the team and are supplied with identical equipment."

While it may be easy for F1 fans to pile on the praise to the drivers Horner has been keen to ensure everyone involved with Red Bull Racing knows their efforts are appreciated.

He added: "There are a lot of unsung heroes at the factory, putting in superhuman efforts and hours to get the components of the car."

Top form: Mark Webber
